A memorable evening

Michael Charton captivated the audience with his compelling presentation of Song for Sopihiatown. The venue was packed, creating a vibrant atmosphere, and the exceptional food enhanced the evening.

Thanks to Ray's Kitchen for hosting and to every guest whose support contributed to its success.

We are encouraged by the growing interest in the Bokamoso Education Trust in KwaZulu-Natal and look forward to expanding our impact through education.

From fledglings to future leaders

The journeys of graduates like Njabulo, Lerato, and Snamile highlight education's ripple effect. Their success not only uplifts themselves, but also their families, communities and the economy. Your support for school fees empowers learners to become confident citizens shaping South Africa's future. Thank you!

Out and about

Mentor workshop at Calling Education

Our mentorship programme with Calling Academy has officially begun. Thank you to Caroline Leaf's team, who kindly sponsored each learner with their own book. Sessions are focused on the power of thought and the ability to break negative cycles in order to reach your full potential.

Standard Bank experience

Our beneficiaries recently participated in a Job Shadowing experience at Standard Bank, enjoying an educational day of learning about the banking industry. They gained valuable insights into various career opportunities beyond deposits and withdrawals through presentations and interactions with professionals. The experience left them motivated and excited about exploring their career paths.

Nurturing tech talent

Some of our beneficiaries participated in Investec's 'Developing Tech Talent' workshop, which focused on teamwork and problem-solving. This initiative was designed to enhance their skills in robotics and technology. It was an engaging, hands-on learning opportunity for all involved.

School visits

We are fortunate to have had the opportunity to visit some of our beneficiaries during our recent school visits in KwaZulu Natal.

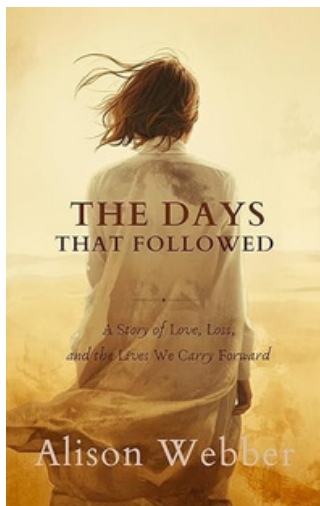

FUN DAY with JACASS

We are incredibly thankful to our partner, JACASS, for their exceptional support of the children at Bokamoso Education Trust. To celebrate Youth Day, our beneficiaries in Johannesburg enjoyed hot chocolate before embarking on a creative journey, designing vibrant, colourful shirts with t-shirt dyes. Each child left with a full belly of delicious pizza and a unique piece of clothing to brighten their wardrobe.

Thank you, JACASS, for orchestrating another unforgettable event. Our families have expressed heartfelt gratitude for this FUNtastic day.
